Waste Water Treatment Plant Disposal Truck

The WWTP is in need of a new (new to them, but used). The truck will be used inside the plant to haul processed sludge from the sludge press to the disposal site. They have been utilizing one of the snow plowing trucks since early summer, but due to the need of having that truck on the road, we need a used truck. By trucking the processed sludge the cake is drier and denser in nature saving extra drying time and making storage and disposal easier. This process will change in the coming years as the phosphorus removal will change the belt press method and force us to look at different alternatives so spending a fairly reasonable amount for a few year fix is ideal.

I'm asking the council to approve up to $10,000 for the purchase of a truck, that Fred Lay and Alan Neff can search for.
