The town has received 2 applications for changing zoning classification of property in the urban district. The petitions both followed the process outlined by the town zoning code, which consists of notifying neighbors, holding a public hearing and obtaining a recommendation of the Yorktown Plan Commission. The plan commission has recommended the change in classification for both parcels.

The council has final authority on the decision to move the zoning. I do want to note that both projects will require variances which can only be obtained after the zoning changes.

Respectfully,

Pete Olson
Town Manager
